

In honor of Working Theater's 2018 touring production of,
"ALTERNATING CURRENTS", a play based on the stories collected in Flushing Queens, we would like to bring the community together to share their talents!

As much as we are excited to share this new show with you, we are just as excited to showcase local artists of various disciplines. Come on out to our Free - Community Shine, sign up for the open mic and show that the arts are alive in Flushing Queens! Email tricia@theworkingtheater.org or visit our Facebook page for more information.
